REDUCTIONS OF SALARIES TALK OF SUPERVISORS

Fee Committee Discussed Matter With County Officers Monday

The Fees and Salaries committee of the Board of Supervisors called on several of the county officials yesterday and today discussing proposals for a reduction of salaries among the county employees. No report of the result of the investigation had been made at today's sessions.

At the morning session today the board voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of the road and bridge committee, appointing Fred W. Leake of Amboy for another six-year term as County Superintendent of Highways, his term of office expiring tomorrow. No other applications for the position were filed with the board.

Coroner Frank M. Banker appeared before the board at this morning's session, filing his quarterly report and explaining to the supervisors the difficulty his office is meeting in the collection of fees. The board voted to empower the Judiciary committee to conduct an investigation and favored legislation to provide for the payment of Coroner's fees in cases originating from the Dixon state hospital.

The Judiciary committee was empowered to select the judges of election and to report at this session.

New Accounting System

County Superintendent of Highways Leake appeared before the board yesterday afternoon and explained a new system of accounting as outlined by the state Department of Public Works and Buildings to become effective in the offices of County Superintendents of Highways throughout the state July 1. The cost of installing the system in Lee county, according to Superintendent Leake would be approximately $600 and would require additional assistance in the office. Twenty-seven different forms are required under the system and these are to be audited at regular intervals by members of a force of state auditors, it was explained. The Road and Bridge committee was empowered to submit a recommendation at this session.

The Fees and Salaries committee were requested to submit a recommendation on the employment of an accountant to conduct the audit of the county's records at this meeting.

The board voted unanimously to accept the invitation of the county Home committee and Superintendent and Matron Mr. and Mrs. Willy Fry to visit and inspect the property Wednesday noon, and to be guests at a luncheon at that time.

Members of the board will assemble at the Silver Crescent cafe this evening to enjoy their annual "atfish dinner."

Northwestern And Chicago Graduates

Chicago, June 14 (AP)—More than 2,000 young men and women today entered the alumni and alumnae ranks of the two major Chicago institutions of higher learning.

On the picturesque south side Midway Plaisance, the University of Chicago, in its 40th year of existence, conferred degrees today on 379 graduates at annual commencement exercises in University Chapel.

Last night Northwestern University held its 74th exercises and graduated 1,547 young men and women, who were urged by the commencement speaker, Director Shelby M. Harrison of the Russell Sage Foundation, to adopt a research attitude and help solve the multitude of social problems of today.

Newfoundland's Premier Routed

St. John's, N. F., June 14 (AP)—Overnight returns from the general election increased the majority of the opposition today and turned the defeat of Premier Sir Richard Squires into an almost complete rout.

Defeated in Trinity South, Squires saw the opposition leader, F. C. Alderdice, elected with a following of at least 20 members out of the 27 that constitute the legislative assembly. The government had elected only one candidate, F. C. Bradley, in Humber.

The standing early today was opposition 20, government 1, independent 1, unreported 5.

To Enforce Pauper Law In Carroll Co.

State's Attorney R. M. Eaton of Carroll county has filed a petition asking that the pauper law be put into effect in that county. It is the first time in the history of the county that the law has been enforced.

According to the law, it compels children, parents, brothers and sisters, and grandparents of paupers, to contribute to their support. The public burden is becoming so great that the law will be enforced in order to relieve the county until the financial burden ceases.

Terse Items Of News Gathered In Dixon During Day

FATHER DIED

George W. Brown, express agent here, was called to Ionia, Mich., last evening by a message announcing the death of his father.

MINOR ACCIDENT

Automobiles driven by Lee Carpenter and E. J. Lally of this city figured in a collision last evening about 7 o'clock on state highway, route 2 at the St. James corners. Both cars were damaged but the occupants escaped serious injury.

IOWAN FINED HERE

H. J. Tramel of Mingo, Iowa, was arrested this morning by Officer Clarence Seagren and taken before Police Magistrate A. E. Simonson, where he was assessed a fine of $100 and costs on a charge of possessing and transporting intoxicating liquor.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Funeral services for Phillip Welch, former Dixon resident, who passed away in Chicago Monday evening, will be held Wednesday morning from the Jones funeral home at 9 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 with interment in Oakwood.

TO CLOSE HIS OFFICE

BAND CONCERT FRIDAY NIGHT AT H. S. FIELD

Plan to Play Concert On Peoria Bridge Is Abandoned

The Dixon Civic band will give its second open air concert Friday evening at the high school athletic field, it was announced at the rehearsal last evening. The plan to hold the concert on the Peoria avenue bridge was abandoned when it was ascertained that the sound effect would probably be no better than last week when the efforts of the musicians were nullified by noisy children in Haymarket square.

A platform is to be constructed in the center of the athletic field and those attending the concert will have access to the bleachers and there will be space for the parking of automobiles.

The band received its first contribution of music from a Dixon citizen last evening, when R. S. Slothover, a veteran musician and member of several bands who has been a regular attendant at the weekly rehearsals, presented the band with a new march which was played for the first time.

Director Wallace Smith of the Dixon state hospital band, and one of the concert soloists in the Civic band, had invited Director Charles B. Price and his organization to meet for rehearsal in the entertainment hall at the state hospital next Monday evening. The members of the band voted unanimously to accept the invitation and thus provide entertainment for employer and patients of the state institution.

LEADERS ARE SURPRISED BY WET SENTIMENT

Plank On Prohibition Continues To Give Chieftain Worry

By BYRON PRICE

Associated Press Staff Writer. Chicago, June 14 (AP)—Headling toward a new party deal on prohibition, the Republican national convention assembled today in Chicago Stadium prepared to give President Hoover another four year grant of leadership but bent on a platform proposing that the dry amendment be put on trial for its life.

As it emerged in the early morning hours from a conference extraordinary of convention chiefs the compromise plank on the one big convention issue favors submission of a new amendment, giving the states the right to decide for themselves and promising federal cooperation with those that went dry. It would not recommend whether such an amendment be ratified or rejected.

The presumption was that the plank would be acceptable to Mr. Hoover. Several of his own Cabinet members were in the all-night conference which drafted it.

The platform committee, to be named today under the chairmanship of James R. Garfield of Ohio, still must wrestle with the problem before it comes to the convention at all.

One point sure to stir committee debate is the problem of the saloon. The compromise conference tried to find a way to propose a legal barrier to it, but failed.

The prohibition dispute so far overshadowed the convention picture that every other phase of the big quadrennial event was all but forgotten as the delegates came together today at the Stadium.

Leaders Surprised

The sudden rise of anti-prohibition sentiment here had been one of the dramatic episodes of political history. The leaders seemed almost as much surprised as if the waters of Lake Michigan had risen to their hotels, and the rank and file was left gasping at the tumble of developments.

Second place in the speculation and concern of leaders and delegates was held by the question of the Vice Presidency. Not only does a murmur of opposition to the renomination of Mr. Curtis run through many delegations, but Charles G. Dawes' statement of renunciation in Washington yesterday did not stop efforts by his admirers, Iowa went so far as to endorse him by resolution, Texas indicated it might be for him, and Illinois debated whether it should not press its campaign in his behalf.

The prospects continued to point toward a Curtis renomination, when nominations are reached on Thursday, but something at least may depend on the result of the prohibition struggle which must be settled first. If the administration gets its way on the wet and dry issue, the convention may want to break away on the Vice Presidency and pick a new candidate.

Butler Defeated

That everything is not entirely lively for administration desires in this convention was amply demonstrated yesterday by the delegates from Massachusetts. William M. Butler of that state has been under serious discussion here for National Chairman. But his own delegation refused on its arrival here to give him even a membership on the National Committee.

There was an outward sign of these internal wars, however, on the surface of today's gathering in the mammoth Stadium—the same auditorium in which the Democrats are to meet two weeks hence. The program was filled, instead, after the manner of opening convention sessions, with formalities and pleasantries, and its tenure was eleven. Central Daylight time, and the business in hand was not sufficient to detain the delegates beyond noon.

Keynote High Spots

The high point of this business was delivery of the party keynote by Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa who, like all Republican keynoters had taken pains to word his long speech to offend no one but the Democrats.

The manuscript was voluminous and the reading style of delivery does not greatly become the rough and ready, bushy-haired Iowa; but Senator Dickinson had learned well how to stir his listeners with special outbursts of praise for Republicanism.

Late this afternoon, the only two of these committees which matter will begin operation. One is to accept or rewrite the platform which the leaders have already written, and which the convention can accept or rewrite later on as it chooses. The other is to hear contests over the seating of delegates—notably the contests (Continued on Page 2)

The G. O. P. Convention Will Now Come to Order

PLAN TO STAMPEDE FOR DAWES

CAPTAIN TELLS OF RESCUE OF FLIER HAUSNER

Master Of the Ship Sends Story Of Rescue To Associated Press

EDITOR'S NOTE—This story of the rescue of Stanislaus Felix Hausner, New-York to Warsaw flier, was radioed to The Associated Press.

By Capt. James Wilson. Master of the S. S. Circe Shell S. S. Circe Shell, June 14 (AP)—"I'm Stanley Hausner, save my ship."

With these words the Polish flier who had drifted many miles across the Atlantic on his wrecked airplane greeted us when we found him.

He literally fell into the lifeboat which we had lowered to fetch him, and he was helped aboard my ship in almost complete darkness.

"Thanks very much, Captain. I have been waiting for you for eight days," he said.

Then he collapsed. He almost missed being rescued, for the darkness was falling rapidly.

Sighted By Lookout. It was very difficult to see, but the lookout on the Circe Shell sighted something ahead. It looked like a drifting buoy, but he could make out some peculiar markings on the top.

He picked up his long-glass and trained it on the object. He saw then what he had thought was a buoy was really an airplane with its tail sticking up in the air.

Right away when he had told me what he saw I stepped to the engine room telegraph and signaled my engineer to cut the speed.

We slowed down and moved closer. We got within one mile of the derelict and then I stopped the ship. We drifted slowly in toward the plane.

My men, watching from the rail were amazed to see the figure of a man which seemed to be lashed to the machine.

We blew a blast on the ship's siren and the figure moved. He waved frantically. We could see now that he was not lashed down.

Volunteers Man Boat. Right away I ordered a lifeboat away. It was manned by volunteers under my Second Officer.

From the bridge I watched them row away. When they were about fifty feet from the airplane they hailed him and the flier answered in English.

There was a rough sea running and it was getting worse and we were afraid the airplane might sink any moment.

But my men were able to reach it in time to take off the exhausted aviator.

I endeavored to obtain a coherent statement from him as soon as he showed signs of revival, but his exhausted condition made this impossible.

SUPPORTERS TO IGNORE HELL'N MARIA'S PROTEST

Texas Takes Lead In Move To Name Him Vice President

Chicago Stadium, June 14 (AP)—Republican convention followers of Charles G. Dawes disregarded his protest today and secretly planned a stampede for him as Republican Vice Presidential nominee.

The Dawes talk was spreading rapidly about the convention floor as delegates assembled together for the first time, with Texas taking the initiative in the movement.

Despite the stampede plans, friends of the veteran Charles Curtis still maintained his renomination was assured.

President Hoover was keeping hands off officially, but significance was attached to the fact that almost every Cabinet member here has declared for the renomination of Curtis and will go through on that basis.

Texas delegates obtained the consent of Arkansas to place the former Vice President in nomination. Illinois, home state of Dawes, still has to consider the Vice Presidency, but of course it is for Dawes should be advanced.

Len Small, former Governor of Illinois and temporary chairman of the Illinois delegation, said that undoubtedly Illinois would wish to place Mr. Dawes in nomination but that its caucus had not been completed.

Loop Speakeasies Raided Last Night

Chicago, June 14 (AP)—While the anti-prohibition crusaders were staging their big downtown rally and convention crowds milled about hotels, Federal prohibition agents smashed into seven loop speakeasies last night, destroying bars, equipment and liquor.

The raiders said they understood the campaign was part of the extended local drive to "dry up" the city for the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Four speakeasies were also raided on the north side and a number of arrests made.

Mrs. Jarvis Leake Died At Noon Hour

Mrs. Jarvis Leake passed away at her home, 316 E. Second street, at noon today, after an extended illness. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at the Temperance Hill cemetery. The obituary will be published later.

BIG RANCHMAN DEAD

Phoenix, Ariz., June 14 (AP)—John Marley, cattle and ranch owner, died here Monday of heart disease. The 69-year-old rancher formerly resided in Beloit, Wis. He operated the Flying V ranch near Globe, Ariz., among others.

HOOPER SIGNS LAW. Washington, June 14 (AP)—President Hoover today signed the first amendment to the new tax law—one designed to collect $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 by applying the excise levies to deliveries made to persons other than dealers before May 1.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. DELEGATION IS IN DISAGREEMENT

In Deadlock Over National Committeeman This Morning

Chicago, June 14 (AP)—The Illinois Republican delegation split, by the bitterness of factional strife, adjourned its efforts to select a National Committeeman today to attend the national convention's opening session.

The convention had already been called to order before the Illinois delegation, under the temporary chairmanship of former Gov. Len Small, arrived.

Not for many years has there been such strife as today's in a caucus of Illinois Republican leaders. In it the forces of former Senator Charles S. Deneen and Gov. Louis L. Emmerson were allied.

Elect a slate of convention officials that at the outset, included none of the Small faction.

The selection of Small as temporary chairman of the delegation followed a barrage of oratory and pleas for party harmony and recognition of Small's position as Republican nominee for Governor and titular head of the party in Illinois.

Started Big Battle. The big battle came on the roll call of the motion of Rep. Oscar DePriest to substitute Small for temporary chairman instead of Gen. Abel Davis of Chicago.

Davis was on the slate of the Deneen-Emmerson coalition. Here the factional lines wavered and Small forces won out, 30 to 26.

Only one ballot was taken this morning on the National Committeeman. On this, the Deneen and Emmerson factions remained apart and the vote stood almost the same as upon last night's adjournment. This was the twenty-first ballot.

Frank L. Smith, Small's campaign manager, 27½ Gov. Emmerson, 24 Roy O. West, Deneen associate, 6.

George F. Harding, Cook county leader, 1. Then Homer Gaplin, as spokesman for the coalition, called a halt to the committee membership balloting, urged the caucus to temporarily abandon its efforts and offer a slate of officers to represent the delegation in the convention.

Frank L. Smith, Small's campaign manager, 27½ Gov. Emmerson, 24 Roy O. West, Deneen associate, 6. Then Homer Gaplin, as spokesman for the coalition, called a halt to the committee membership balloting, urged the caucus to temporarily abandon its efforts and offer a slate of officers to represent the delegation in the convention.

Coalition Wins. Rep. William E. Hull shouted that G. P. Smith's motion was out of order; Gen. Davis, chairman of the caucus, ruled Hull down and on the appeal from Davis, ruling, the coalition forces won, 33 to 24.

Former Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, declaring it "an insult to leave the name of Len Small off this slate," moved the separate balloting on the coalition slate members. This, too, was voted down, 30½ to 27½.

On the coalition slate, Garrett McKinney, Emmerson leader, was placed on the Resolutions committee and this brought a protest from the Small forces, who substituted in a motion the name of Thompson. The coalition, on the ballot, again won, 33 to 25, and McKinney (Continued on Page 2)

Brief Bits Of Convention News Picked up on Side

Chicago, June 14 (AP)—Even the white-wings are festive in convention time. The street cleaners are wearing red carnations.

The Stadium post office opened with a boom today. Installed at the convention hall for the benefit of delegates, it had 4,600 pieces of mail to deliver on the opening day.

Frank Sazio, of the local pick-pocket colony, thought this was a time to promote local industry. "Why let outsiders come in and reap a harvest?" he remarked to the police who arrested him and five others before they had a chance to pick any pockets.

It was partly cloudy today, but one delegate was taking no chances on a wet demonstration by the weather. He sallied out from his hotel fortified with an umbrella with red, yellow, lavender and green stripes.

Debutantes and matrons from the gold coast took the convention opportunity to solicit funds for women's organizations opposed to prohibition.

The 500 handsomest cops in Chicago were picked for the convention detail. At the last minute 75 more were added. Another 40 mounted, were sent out to help with traffic and prevent any demonstration by unemployed. The jobless, however, agreed to call off their intended gathering in front of the Stadium and obtained a permit to meet at a point three blocks south of the convention hall.

The delegates are still feeling the home town pulse. A news stand selling out-of-town papers reports a 25 per cent increase in sales.

A pet shop across the street from the Stadium has gone into the ticket brokerage business. Over a window full of dogs reads a sign: "Convention tickets bought, sold and exchanged."

A householder living just across from the Stadium learned there was a convention on today and got out his paint brush to dress up his picket fence.

Mrs. Michael igoe draws no party lines when the wet cause is concerned. The wife of the Illinois Democratic National Committeeman was one of the corps of women pinning wet buttons on the Republicans who allowed themselves to be buttonholed at the Stadium door.

VOTE ON BONUS DELAYED TODAY BY MAN'S DEATH

Tennessee Congressman Collapsed While Advocating Bill

Washington, June 14 (AP)—A final vote on the cash bonus issue was delayed today until tomorrow when the House adjourned out of respect to Representative Elick (D. Tenn.), who died soon after collapsing on the floor in the midst of a speech advocating full payment.

Made increasingly miserable by persisting rains, many of the 20,000 world war veterans who swarmed in ramshackle camps on Washington's outskirts, flocked again to the galleries and the corridors of the capitol to wait through the four hours of debate and succeeding action on amendments.

It had been the intention of House leaders to continue the session until that final vote was reached in the evening. The expectation was that passage would be by approximately the majority that yesterday made possible consideration of the bill, 226 to 175.

Business In Senate. Meanwhile, the Senate approached a vote on the McNary composite farm relief bill.

The Senate Banking committee substituted the $2,000,000,000 relief program sponsored by Senate Democrats for the Garner $2,300,000,000 plan.

The Garner bill, with the Senate provisions substituted, will also be reported so that both measures can go to conference to iron out the differences.

At the same time the Senate Banking committee approved the administration-sponsored House bill for the creation of a Home Loan Discount Bank System.

Mrs. Nellie Sweet Of Compton Called

Mrs. Nellie Sweet, 85, well known Compton resident, passed away at her home there at 4:10 o'clock Monday afternoon, death being the result of congestion of the heart with which she has been ill but a few days. Funeral services will be held at her home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and at 2:30 at the church at Malugin's Grove, with burial in the cemetery nearby. The obituary will be published later.

FIRST SESSION OF CONVENTION IS VERY QUIET

Pres. Hoover's Forces are Against Outright Repeal Plank

BULLETIN

Washington, June 14 (AP)—Friends of the administration at the Chicago convention have sent word to the Capital that they believed the Republican platform can be held to re-submission of the prohibition question rather than a more drastic repeal plank.

The telephone line between Chicago and the White House was open during the morning and conversations were held by President Hoover's aides with various of the administration leaders in Chicago.

While all word of prohibition developments was withheld publicly at the White House, it was ascertained on high authority that optimistic reports have been received that a stampede for a repeal declaration could be averted.

Chicago Stadium, June 14 (AP)—In the quietest of opening sessions, the Republican convention submerged its troubles for the moment today, but did not forget them.

As its keynote, Senator Dickinson of Iowa talked to restless delegates and half filled galleries about almost everything but prohibition, a group of convention chiefs sped away across town to their hotels to try to heal a breach over the plank for re-submission.

A boom for General Charles G. Dawes to replace Vice President Curtis as President Hoover's running mate spread in every direction and a real battle looked probable.

The convention session itself took no official note of these things. It was given over wholly to formalities, most of them so dry that delegates and spectators paid little attention. They talked and walked about so much that even the big voice of the keynoter could not pierce the continuous murmur.

When he mentioned the name of Herbert Hoover, there was just a momentary burst of cheering. When he ran over the name of Dawes, he aroused some subdued handclapping. Mostly, his pronouncements of party principle were scarcely listened to at all.

The block of passive faces lifted from the delegates section testified that the delegates were preoccupied with other things.

Viva voce and in rapid order, the temporary organization of the convention was completed by a series of motions sent to the platform by messenger, read by the clerk and adopted with only a few delegates voting at all.

All Pre-Arranged. Under pre-arrangement, the motion for adoption of resolutions was sent by William G. Skelly of Tulsa, Okla., that putting the Credentials committee to work by Albert W. Jefferies of Omaha, Neb., who was made the committee chairman; that for Permanent Organization by General James G. Harbord of New York; that appointing the Platform committee by James R. Garfield of Ohio, agreed on weeks ago as chairman of that trouble-beset group of the coming year.

The first taste of the coming prohibition struggle was given the delegates by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York. Rising in his place in the Empire State delegation, he announced he was sending to the chair for reference to the Platform committee, his resolution for repeal. He did not ask that it be read, and in the noise and confusion few delegates knew that the issue of the dry law now had come officially to the notice of the convention.

The session ended a few minutes later, at 1:15, just an hour and three quarters after it began. It will meet again at 11 A. M. tomorrow.

Fight Repeal Plank. Administration leaders, intent upon defeating the forces or repeal by drafting an acceptable plank calling for re-submission of the prohibition question, today predicted success was just ahead after consulting the White House and spokesmen for the drys.

During the morning they communicated by telephone with President Hoover's aides in Washington and called in Daniel A. Poling, head of the allied forces for enforcement, and other prohibition leaders, to inspect the tentative re-submission plank already drawn up.

Subsequent events indicated revision was in progress. Secretaries Mills and Hyde of the Cabinet pored over the issue with James R. Garfield, the President's choice to head the resolutions committee. A final agreement and approval by the President was expected before the committee goes to work late today.

HAVASU FALLS.
HAVASU FALLS! A hundred feet of snowy mist dropped in slow stateliness over a rusty wall into a basin of turquoise! Water in a waterless land; sheer beauty in surroundings of savage grandeur; silence, except for the thunder of the falling waters; beauty and peace; peace and beauty. The spray curtains sway to and fro in the vagrant, eddying breezes, bathing now this wall, now that. The rocks about the foot of the cascade, the mist-splashed walls on either side, are green with deep, soft banks of maidenhair fern. White of falling water, blue of circular pool beneath, red-brown of guardian cliffs, green of maidenhair and moss, and yellow or tawny birch, Havasu Falls! Hoffman Birney, in "Roads to Rome."

Mrs. Walter's Birthday Happily Observed at S.S. Conference

The regular monthly Workers' Conference of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday School, held last evening, in the Sunday school rooms took the nature of a festive occasion. Thirty-five were seated at the long L shaped table, which was decorated with roses and peonies, the centerpiece being a bowl of pink roses. When the pink tapers were lighted as the guests gathered at the table, Mrs. L. W. Walter became curious, and began making inquiry, supposing that an announcement was forth coming. She was told that she must wait until later for that, but it was not until the close of the meal, when Mrs. Bert Orntesen who was chairman of the supper, appeared with a huge birthday cake, beautifully iced in white and decorated with pink sweet peas, that she began to sense the nature of the announcement. Even then it required the combined vocal efforts of the crowd singing "Happy Birthday" to make her fully aware that every body else had come to a birthday party. Although completely taken by surprise, she proved herself master of the situation by cutting both big cakes, for a second had been slipped in during the first confusion, and then proceeded to demonstrate her ability as a preacher's wife by making a first class speech, which was both witty and "constructive" in content. Peals of laughter and hearty applause showed that her audience was with her and greatly enjoying the occasion. After a brief discussion of problems confronting the conference, the most pressing of which is more room for a rapidly expanding school, the meeting closed by praying together the Lord's Prayer. Greetings and best wishes were extended to Mrs. Walter for many more happy anniversaries.

Fine Report of Legion and Auxiliary Con. Savanna

At the thirteenth district convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary, held at Savanna June 11, the following officers were elected: Mrs. Emily H. Cole of Prophetstown was re-elected district director; Mrs. Karl Blanchard, Sterling, alternate director; Mrs. B. A. Cotes, Savanna, Historian; and Mrs. Slothower, Rochelle, chaplain. The secretary-treasurer is appointed by the director. Mrs. Lila Wagner, past president of Dixon unit, has held the office of district chaplain during the past year.

About two hundred women members of thirteen district, registered at the Lincoln school auditorium, where the auxiliary convention was held, and which convened promptly at 10 o'clock. The committee chairmen gave splendid reports of work done during the past year, as follows:
Rehabilitation—216 1-2 dozen cookies and 1,169 1-2 pounds of carpet rags sent to North Chicago Veterans' hospital.
Child welfare—29 children at Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' school at Normal, Ill. "mothered by auxiliary units. Total valuation of child welfare work done, $641.32.
Total number of poppies sold in the district this year was 12,400.
District membership June 1, 1932, was 1,090.

Among the principal speakers at the convention Saturday were Mrs. Katherine Bartling, Rockford, department president; Mrs. Ada Muckelstone, senior vice president; Mrs. Agnes Price, Mt. Morris, department chaplain; Atty. Leo E. Allen, Galena; L. R. Benston, department service officer, Chicago; and Father C. J. Higgins, Seneca, department chaplain.

The parade formed promptly at 4 p. m., and was an inspiring sight, a number of bands and drum corps furnishing lively music for the occasion. The district and state officers of both the Legion and Auxiliary occupied the reviewing stand during the parade. Those in attendance from Dixon unit were as follows: Mesdames Lila Wagner, district chaplain;

Six Illini Graduates from Lee Co. For This Year

Urbana-Champaign, Ill., June 13—Their undergraduate work finished, approximately 2300 seniors will receive their diplomas from the University of Illinois this year. The 61st annual commencement from the Urbana-Champaign department will be held here tomorrow. Of the 2300 about 400 were graduated Friday from the University's professional schools—the College of Medicine, the College of Dentistry, and the School of Pharmacy—in Chicago.

The list of Illini graduates includes three from Dixon and a total of six from this county. For the first time Illini graduates will receive an 8½x11 inch diploma which have superseded the larger one given in the past. The new diploma has been printed on a genuine sheep skin parchment and will be handed the graduates in a dark blue folder, with orange moire lining.

Although only slightly smaller than last year's graduating group, the largest ever graduated by the University of Illinois, the senior class has watched the University pass through a trying year. In view of the economic situation the University is finishing the year with a saving of approximately $500,000 of its appropriation. A larger saving by the University is planned for next year.

Candidates for degrees from Lee County are:

Lee County
Amboy—Dean Klein Finch, B. S. Agriculture.
Patricia Fleming B. S. Chemistry.
Ashton—Owen Wray Hamel, B. S. Commerce and Law.
Dixon—Ines Eleanor Clayton, M. S. Chemistry, 322 Peoria Ave.
Leona Durkes, B. S. Library Science, 722 E. Fellows St.
Harold Louis Marks, 9. B. Liberal Arts and Sciences, 812 N. Ottawa Ave.

TO SPONSOR PLAY, FRIDAY, JUNE 24th.
The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church will sponsor a play "Safety First" to be given by the Dixon Dramatic Club, Friday, June 24th, at 8 o'clock.

MISS BESS ELLIS IS IN CHICAGO.
Miss Bess Ellis has gone to Chicago and is a guest at the Edgewater Beach Hotel.

How About Your Leisure Time?

"What do you do with your leisure time?" This was the topic for discussion at the B. Y. P. U. meeting Sunday evening at the Baptist church under the leadership of Ethel Mae Rinehart.

The outline of the topic included the need for rest or leisure time to renew our energy. As Kipling wrote, "We shall rest, and faith, we shall need it—lie down for an aeon or two."

Ways to obtain this rest or renewing our energy in our leisure time were discussed. As we are a fourfold creature we need to renew the energy of the four sides of our nature: physical, mental, social and spiritual. There are many ways we can strengthen these sides of our nature.

The answer was given as to why we should rest. We have work to do and we must be prepared to do it. In our leisure time we must strengthen ourselves for our work hours. The following poem states this in a new way.

We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.
We have work to do, and loads to lift.
Shun not the struggle; face it.
'Tis God's gift.
The young people are going to study the Gospel of John under Rev. Marshall's leadership in their Wednesday night prayer meeting at 6:45.

Leslie Marshall is to lead the meeting next Sunday evening at 6:30, when the topic will be "How honest are we as individuals and groups?" What do you think about it?

Join us in these interesting, inspiring and educational meetings.

MUST WOMEN SUFFER?

Is it their lot to suffer cramps and backaches every month? Certainly not. The tonic effect of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has ended all that for many thousands of women.

Mrs. Schnepfer's case is typical. She was always sickly. Tired. Gloomy. "Now," she says, "everywhere I go people tell me how much better I look. I feel like dancing for joy all the time."

Meeting Am. Legion Auxiliary Reported

The American Legion Auxiliary met in regular session in Legion Hall Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. The usual business was taken care of. An invitation to attend the annual Flag Day services, June 14 at the Elks Club was read and accepted. The president urged all members to attend this service. Mrs. Mable Kelley, ways and means chairman, gave a fine report of the card party held at the home of Mrs. Stella Schmucker recently.

Through a misunderstanding it was announced that election of officers would be held at this meeting. Election will be held at the next regular meeting, June 22. It was voted to hold this meeting in the afternoon instead of evening.

and all members are urged to attend.

There will be a rag sewing in Legion hall Wednesday the 15th to which all members and friends of the Auxiliary are invited. A picnic dinner will be served at noon; usual picnic rules observed. Come and sew carpet rags, as the boys in the hospitals are constantly asking for them.

Delegates to the thirteenth district convention, held at Savanna June 11, were as follows: Mesdames Mable Kelley, Louise Withers, Catherine Gardner, Dorothy Teschendorf and Minnie Miller. Alternates: Viola Strub, Lila Wagner, Zelpha Cinnamon, Lillian Stevens and Edna Arnold.

Hundreds Attend Masque At Mount Carroll Saturday

Cultural entertainment of the highest type coupled with enjoyment of the charm of nature's environment drew a thousand or more visitors from all over Illinois, an especially some of the larger cities in the central west, to Smith's park, Mt. Carroll, Saturday on the occasion of the seventeenth annual masque of the Friends of

Our Native Landscape society. The day was ideal for the hundreds of picnickers who came from far off to enjoy a day in the beautiful canyon, the fame of which has spread so far.

The masque was given in front of the entrance to the "Devil's Backbone," immediately across the Wauka-rusa, by a company of artists from Chicago and Davenport, and was directed by Miss R. B. Eskil, noted pageantry director, of Iron Mountain, Mich. Jens Jensen, nationally-known landscape architect of Chicago, president of the Friends of Our Native Landscape society, was present and later spoke.

Just as the sun began to sink into its western horizon the large company of nature lovers wended their way past the "Indian Face," and grouped on the sloping green-sward which faced the canyon's amphitheater to witness and hear the masque, purest of English drama, as in vogue during the Elizabethan age. No more delightful scene could have been presented in this great nature's stage afforded in Smith's park. In front and high above the audience was a great palisade of rock. Above it were the trees of the forest with their beautiful canopy. June evening sky, softly lightened by the rays of the setting sun. All was quiet save the gentle voices of the birds in their "Nunc Dimittis," or evening songs. Then came an imitation from the Indian's flute. Its notes were thrilling in their gentle appeal, giving forth a sound which intensified the glorious beauty of the canyon.

THE DEMAND FOR GRAFT.

Politics being what it is, public servants land in criminal court every now and then. And once in a while such an event carries with it some very instructive information for the ordinary citizen.

Chicago recently convicted Daniel A. Serritella, former city sealer, and Harry Hochstein, formerly his deputy, of conspiring to cheat Chicago consumers out of some $54,000,000.

The two men had a very nice racket, and it worked like this:

Their job was to inspect scales, measures and the like used by grocers and butchers. Evidence presented at their trial showed that a lot of these merchants had the two officials on their payroll—and, in return, were permitted to use scales and measures that gyped the consumer.

The housewife who bought a pound of meat at the corner store really got only about 14 ounces. If she bought a peck of vegetables, the measure that was used had a phony bottom, so that she got less than she paid for.

It was done on a pretty extensive scale, too. Of 9000 shortweight complaints filed with Serritella during his term of office, only 1000 ever reached the city prosecutor. The rest were quietly smothered.

Now all of this is water over the dam, and the two officials have been laid by the heels so that they can't do any more harm. But the story is illuminating for the light that it throws on the source of rackets.

This particular bit of crookedness wasn't something that grew up from the underworld. It was bought and paid for by respectable citizens—by solid business men, who probably never dreamed that they were undermining the foundations of city government. In their idle moments these merchants probably complained because politicians were such a crooked lot.

And that is the way it with a great deal of graft. Graft exists in answer to a demand; and the demand often comes from people who are supposed to be pillars of society. The racketeer and the crooked politicians have their being because the rest of the community not only tolerates them but uses them. To root them out we shall have to remake a whole series of social attitudes.

BONUS MARCHERS.

The assorted war veterans who have been taking part in the hectic 'bonus march' on Washington lately have treated the nation to a rather unpleasant spectacle. Those blatant demands for free food, free lodgings and free transportation have hardly been the sort of thing that will make the ordinary citizen eager to dig down for wholesale bonus payments.

And yet, when you stop to think about it, this great bonus march has been distinctly reassuring.

It is reassuring by contrast with what it might have been—by contrast with what it most assuredly would be in any European country. Grasping as they may seem, the footloose war veterans are nevertheless asking for comparatively little.

Here we have several thousand ex-soldiers, marching in groups on the capital of their country, hitch-hiking and commandeering freight trains, singing songs and cracking jokes—and all in the hope that they can persuade Congress to hand them a little cash.

In most countries things take on a much more ominous aspect when war veterans march on the capital.

They go armed with rifles and revolvers, and instead of talking about petitioning parliament for a little money they go with the intention of upsetting the government and running things to suit themselves. If the government sends troops to stop them, there is much bloodshed; if it fails to do so, there is presently a semi-military dictatorship, led by the ex-soldiers.

Imagine, for instance, the nervous tremors that would seize Europe if it became known that German war veterans were marching on Berlin from all points of the compass.

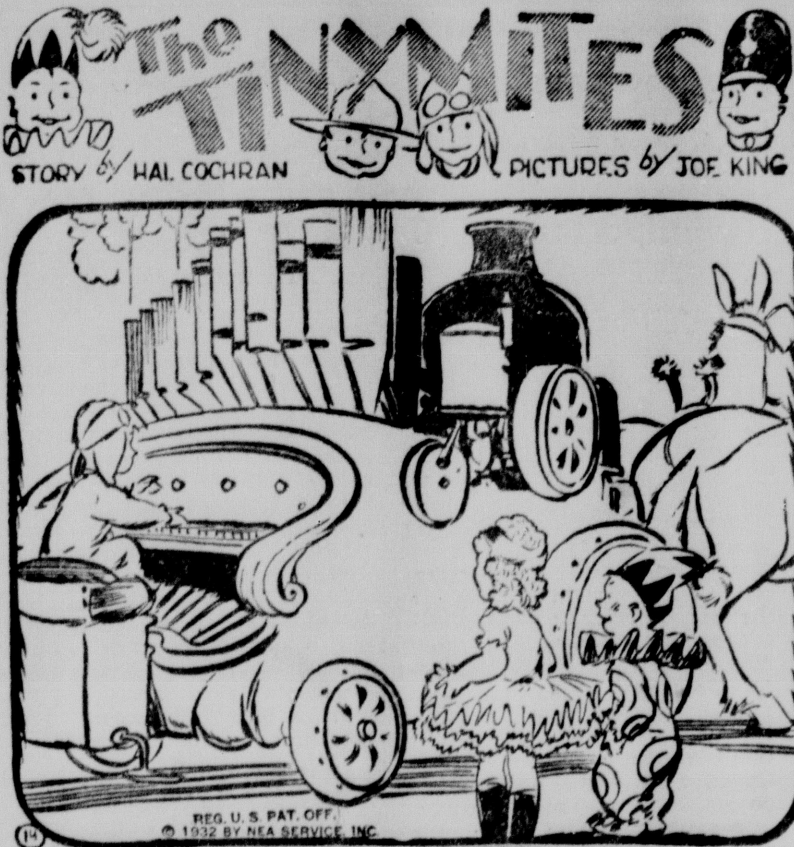

Then meditate on the fact that no one in all America has the slightest fear that these traveling veterans of ours will do anything more desperate than row with a few police here and there.

The spectacle may be unpleasant, but it isn't a bit alarming.

Regarding reparations, France cannot permit those rights to be contested which are the outcome not only of treaties but of contractual agreements protected by the honor of the signatories.—Edouard Herriot, premier of France.

It is much more difficult to make a good law than a good Atlantic flight.—Amelia Earhart Putnam, in conversation with a member of French senate.

The political side of Gandhi is the least part of them. As a moral teacher and reformer the world has not known his equal since Buddha and Christ.—Madeleine Slade, Gandhi's caretaker and disciple.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.)

The elephant, dressed like a clown, began to swing his trunk around. "He's thirsty," shouted Duncy. "I can help him out, I think."

"You Tinymites all wait right here. I know where there's a bucket, near. I'll fill it up with water and then give Slim Jim a drink."

Off Duncy ran and soon he found the bucket, sitting on the ground. He filled it up with water and then walked back to the bunch.

They put it near the big beast's feet. The elephant drank it. "Twas a treat," I told you, shouted Duncy, "that I had a happy hunch."

Just then he got a big surprise. Some water splashed right in his eyes. The Tinymites began to roar. "What happened?" Duncy cried.

"I feel like I'd been swimming. Gee! It didn't feel so good to me. Who threw that splash of water? I am soaked right to the hide!"

"The elephant played a trick on you," said Scouty. "It was mean to do, but he was only playing. From his trunk the water came."

"Remember, you brought him that drink. The whole thing is your fault, I think. A big beast knows no better, so I don't think he's to blame."

The Tinymites then heard music sweet. Upon a little wagon seat there sat a man and he cried out. "I'll play some tunes for you."

"Till big calliope, you know, furnishes music for our show. Who wants to try and play it? It is not so hard to do."

"I'll try," cried Duncy. Then he jumped up to the seat and promptly thumped upon the little keys that made sweet music fill the air.

The man soon pointed out the keys till Duncy played the thing with ease. "Just listen to me," Duncy cried. "My playing's really rare."

A BOOK A DAY

In "Dictator," George Slocum presents a fictionalized portrait of a dictator which is so lifelike that it spoils a good novel.

The first two-thirds of the book can be nothing but a study of Mussolini. I do not know how much fiction is mingled with fact here, but as you read you feel that you are getting a better understanding of the Italian leader than you ever had before.

Mr. Slocum begins with the pre-war years, when his hero—he is called "Hannibal" in the book—was a homeless anarchist hiding from the police. Then he traces his development through the years when he swung clear to the other extreme of political thought, follows him up through his triumph and shows him at last as the successful dictator.

Then, abruptly, the key changes.

There is a counter revolution, brought about chiefly because Hannibal shelves his mistress and marries the king's daughter. Hannibal is chased out, and for years he wanders the earth again, becoming a revolutionary labor leader in South America, Europe and the United States.

At last he returns to his native live country, leads a new revolt and once more puts himself on the top of the heap.

All of this is intensely, thrillingly dramatic—but the transition is too abrupt. You feel that you're reading a biography of Mussolini, and suddenly you find you're reading a gorgeous, romantic novel, and it's too sudden. Aside from that, though, it's a very fine book.

CANCER PREVENTION

The specific cause or causes of cancer are as yet unknown. Nevertheless, cancer can be prevented.

Its prevention may not be accomplished in the manner comparable to that in which smallpox and typhoid fever are prevented. In these diseases we have vaccines and anti-toxins with which to build up immunity.

Cancer prevention follows different lines.

It is well-known that cancer may follow longcontinued irritation. The irritant may be of a chemical or mechanical nature, as in the case of coal tar or the irritation of the tongue caused by a jagged tooth.

Hence, the avoidance of irritation by chemical or mechanical agents in different parts of the body and the early medical and surgical attention to parts which have become irritated serves as cancer prevention.

This is particularly true of the so-called external cancers.

Cancer of the tongue and mucous membranes of the mouth is perhaps one of the best examples of cancer due to irritation. The chief sources of irritation are bad teeth, the excessive use of cigars, cigars or pipes, and syphilis. These irritants cause spots, ulcerations and ultimately thickening of the parts affected.

Subsequently, the nearby cells begin to undergo an abnormal growth, giving rise to cancer.

When the irritated part is ulcerated or thickened, it is in the pre-cancerous stage. If the condition is treated promptly, cancer can be avoided.

Cancer prevention requires alertness on the individual's part and a willingness to consult a physician as soon as any abnormality is detected.

This alertness does not imply a hysterical attitude. On the contrary, the individual need only be motivated by the conviction that cancer can be prevented, and that its most effective prevention is achieved while the tissues are still in a pre-cancerous stage.

NEW HOPE FOR FOREIGNERS IN CHILE INDUSTRY

Revolutionary Junta Reverses Orders Of Confiscation

Santiago, Chile, June 14.—(AP)—Chile's revolutionary junta was complete again today and new hope was extended to foreign investors, including Americans, whose interests run into hundreds of millions.

Rolando Merino, Minister of the Interior, was chosen by the remaining members of the junta last night to fill the place of Carlos Davila, who resigned last week.

At the same time, in spite of the fact that Senor Davila's resignation was attributed to forces anxious to adopt a more drastic policy in confiscating foreign investments, Finance Minister Alfredo Lagarrigue announced nothing detrimental to any foreign interest would be done soon.

The fate of the $375,000,000 Cosach combine, in which Americans are primarily interested, would be given long study, he said. He also announced the junta's previous plan to take over Chile's Central Bank and fuse it with a newly formed state bank would be dropped and the Central Bank would continue to function independently.

Arturo Ruiz Mafel, her, for little known in Chilean politics, was appointed Minister of the Interior to succeed Senor Merino.

First Surgeon To Reach Lincoln Dead

New York, June 13.—(AP)—Dr. Charles A. Leale, the first surgeon to reach the side of President Lincoln after the President was shot, and who remained at the President's side until his death, died at his home in Madison Avenue. He was 90 years old.

Dr. Leale was born in New York City, March 28, 1842. His wife, died in 1923.

The physician was executive officer of the U. S. General Hospital in Washington at the time of Lincoln's assassination. He was placed in charge of the wounded President by Mrs. Lincoln and remained continuously with Lincoln until his death. He also was consulting physician in the last illness of President Garfield, who was also the victim of an assassin.

"GUILTY" SAYS JURY OF MEANS IN LINDY HOAX

Convicted Of Larceny Of $104,000 From
Mrs. McLean

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—Gaston B. Means, the notorious detective, stood convicted today of larceny in an amazing swindle based on the tragic kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby. He faces a possible ten year sentence.

It took a jury in District of Columbia Supreme Court only two hours last night to reach a verdict of guilty on two counts. They cover $104,000 obtained by Means from Mrs. Edward B. McLean, wealthy and socially prominent Washingtonian, as ransom and expense money in a fantastic scheme by which the former Justice Department agent offered to rescue the ill-fated child.

The maximum sentence which might be imposed on each count is ten years, plus $2,000 fine. The jury held him not guilty on separate indictments charging embezzlement of the same money.

The defendant was immediately remanded to jail by Justice James M. Proctor, who rejected a defense plea for continuance of the $50,000 bond under which he had been at liberty during the trial. Means' attorneys said they would try to obtain his release through habeas corpus proceedings. They had four days in which to ask a new trial, after which or failing which, date for pronouncing sentence will be set.

DEFENDS POLICE

Alpine, N. J., June 14.—(AP)—State police deny that any third degree methods were used on Violet Sharpe, have found support from Governor A. Harry Moore.

He said yesterday police were "in no way deserving censure" in the death of the English servant, who drank poison at the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow as detectives arrived to ask her again about her movements the night Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnapped.

His statement came after Emerson L. Richards, Republican leader in the state Senate, accused the police of "hush-up."

Ernest Brinkert, former White Plains taxi man, remained at the police barracks here, a voluntary witness, while police continued to check his story. The servant girl's identification of a picture of him as the man with whom she went riding the night of the kidnapping was shown to be wrong when Ernest Miller of Closter established that he and not Brinkert was her companion.

Mrs. Morrow, who believed from the first in the girl's innocence, will leave tonight with her daughter Constance and her son Dwight for Europe. Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh will remain behind.

Plans for Miss Sharpe's burial are still indefinite.

BRITAIN ASKS REPORT

London, June 14.—(AP)—The British Consul General at New York has been instructed to submit to the Foreign Secretary a report on the death of Violet Sharpe, English servant girl who committed suicide last week at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J.

The girl's death and subsequent developments which indicated that she was not involved in the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby created in this country sharp criticism of the New Jersey police who were charged with terrifying her by their questioning.

SCIENCE FIGHTS LAW FOR GENIUS

Astronomers Want "Telescope Wizard" to Serve Nights for Crime While Working Days in Laboratory

By NEA Service—

To serve justice without cheating science of a genius whose skill can bring the most remote stars within reach of astronomers is the unparalleled problem confronting the courts and prosecuting authorities in St. Charles, Ill.

The genius, John E. Mellish, of St. Charles, is one of the four men in the world capable of making the sensitive telescopic lenses upon which all astronomical knowledge depends.

He faces 20 years' imprisonment for a crime he has confessed, involving his 15-year-old daughter. What shall the law do with him? Impressed by eminent scientists' pleas for mercy, courts wonder if Mellish might be sentenced to 20 years of nights in jail, while being escorted daily to his workshop to grind out lenses and work on delicate telescopes.

When State's Attorney George I. Carbury would not consent to this a plan was evolved to build a laboratory within the walls of a state penitentiary so that Mellish might continue his work while satisfying society for his crime. The proposal awaits approval of state officials.

Meanwhile, Mellish remains in nominal custody of the Kane county sheriff, passing his nights in the county jail at Geneva and walking out with a guard each morning to his workshop. He has been a free man by day and a prisoner by night since he was indicted nine months ago.

Mellish's interest in astronomy began in his boyhood when he was given a $20 telescope for Christmas. He soon outgrew this and bought another for $19. Then because of his astonishing amateur astronomical observations and the remarkable lenses he had made at home, he was given a job at Yerkes observatory where his fame became world-wide.

Mellish will be brought to trial soon and the unusual arrangements for his confinement defined by Circuit Judge John Newhall.

The charge against him was brought by his wife, who has borne him 11 children.

Issues Being Stirred Up Now Unimportant—Ford

Detroit, June 14.—(AP)—Henry Ford believes the issues "now being stirred up at the political conventions" mean nothing, and thinks they will have not even the slightest effect on "the things that we are all interested in today—economic recovery, jobs and money in the pocket of the average man."

In an interview today, Mr. Ford lauded the abilities of President Hoover and said he expected to see him re-elected "because he is the best fitted man for the job."

Declaring there is "nothing wrong with the country today," Mr. Ford said "there is nothing wrong with anything except the money system and Hoover certainly has no control over that. He should have and some day the people will have such control."

"We are interested today in putting money in the pocket of the average man, reversing the economic spiral by putting men to work," he said, "and all this stuff in Chicago has no effect whatever on that. The country knows what its real task is, and is not going to be switched off by propagandists of any sort."

New Tax Decrees From Hindenburg

Berlin, June 14.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg today signed an emergency decree putting into effect a series of new financial measures, but he withheld until tomorrow another decree, already prepared, lifting the ban which the Brüning government imposed on the Nationalist Socialist storm troops.

The fiscal measures impose a graduated tax starting at 1-1/2 percent on all persons who hold jobs; reduce 1/4 dollar for the unemployed; and the wounded war veterans, and eliminate all exemptions from the turnover tax. There is also a new salt tax of 6 pfennigs a pound. This tax is expected to yield 60,000,000 marks, and that on the employed 400,000 marks, the latter to be applied to the unemployment dole.

The Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts said this morning that the President had been deluged with protests from wounded veterans and from workers against the new measures affecting them.

LABORATORY YIELDS NEW FACTS ON KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Its "Bulk" and Vitamin B
Help Relieve Constipation;
Also Has Blood-building Iron

New laboratory experiments demonstrate that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has sufficient "bulk" to exercise the intestines, as well as Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Now you can overcome common constipation by this pleasant "cereal way," and banish the headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

No need to worry along with pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Instead, just eat two tablespoonfuls daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—adequate for most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TALK OF TRADES HEARD IN RANKS OF CHICAGO CUBS

Report Pitcher Is To Go In Deal For Boston Outfielder

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—The old rumor that the Chicago Cubs are about to make a deal for an outfielder, had popped up again today. The latest candidate was Willie Berger of the Boston Braves, a strong hitter last season, but not so strong this year. President William Veech has conferred with President Emil Puchs of the Braves, but has not revealed the topic of conversation. The reports said a pitcher—not named—would go to the Braves for Berger. The major league rule requiring clubs to be down to the 23 man player limit by midnight of June 15, was no immediate source of worry to either the Cubs or White Sox. Cubs were down to 23 and the Sox to 22, after sending Jack Rothrock to Toronto of the International League yesterday on option.

RED SOX BUSY

Boston, June 14—(AP)—Engineering another trade in his efforts to mend the holes in his Red Sox, President Bob Quinn has sent Earl Webb, hard-hitting outfielder, to Detroit in exchange for Dale Alexander, big first baseman, and outfielder Roy Johnson. No cash was involved in the big deal—the third important Red Sox trade in a week and the fourth in three weeks.

President Quinn said last night he believed it would give his last-place Red Sox additional hitting strength in the infield. Always a great hitter, Webb's fielding kept him out of the majors for several years. Last year, however, he found himself fielding sensationally, batting .333 and bashing out 68 doubles to surpass George Burns' record by four.

Alexander hung up a batting mark of .325 last year while his fielding just about got him by. Johnson was just the reverse. A classy fielder and very fast, he has shown potential hitting strength. He batted only .275 in 1931.

Looking For Hitters
This year, Alexander and Johnson, playing in 21 and 48 games, respectively, have been hitting .267 and .258. Alexander has been used mainly as a pinch hitter this season.

Looking primarily for hitting strength, Quinn started a few weeks ago by trading Charley A. Berry, first string catcher to the White Sox, for Benny Tate, catcher. Smead Jolley, outfielder, and Johnny Watwood, first baseman and outfielder, Jack Rothrock, an outfielder, also went for waiver price.

Champaign, Ill., June 14—(AP)—The field in the Illinois professional golf championship tournament today set out in pursuit of Harry Hampton, veteran Chicagoan, who led the first round yesterday with 72, par for the Champaign Country Club course.

Following Hampton with 74's were Charles Jones of Champaign and Tom Smith of Chicago, and another Chicagoan, Jim Foulis, and another stroke farther back were Eddie Loos of Chicago, and Harry Ribendall of Freeport. Such famous stars as Abe Espinosa, the defending champion, and Horton Smith, encountered difficulty in the first round, and were back of the leaders. Espinosa required an 83, and Smith, along with Sonny Rouse and Gunnar Nelson, had a 77.

THE DOG THAT ENDED LEFTY GROVE'S SLUMP!

GROVE, THE ATHLETICS' ACE, STARTED THE SEASON WITH THREE DEFEATS.

A GARAGE ATTENDANT TOLD HIM TO FEED A SMALL PUPPY THAT HAD BEEN SCAMPERING AROUND THE BUILDING—HE SAID IT WOULD "CHANGE HIS LUCK."

GROVE SCOFFED AT THE IDEA BUT HIS BAD LUCK CONTINUED. ONE NIGHT HE SECRETLY FED "THE POOCH A PRETZEL HE HAD CARRIED IN HIS POCKET."

HE WON THE NEXT 10 GAMES IN A ROW.

COM'ON LUKE—GET YOUR JULY HIT!!

I'VE BEEN HERE FOR 'THE WOLVES'.

AN EMBARRASSING MOMENT FOR SEWELL!

LUKE SEWELL, CLEVELAND CATCHER, FELL INTO A BATING SLUMP SHORTLY AFTER THE 1930 SEASON OPENED. LUKE COULDN'T SNAP OUT OF IT AND THE FANS STARTED "RIDING."—THE SLUMP HUNG ON. ONE DAY EARLY IN JULY WHEN THE INDIANS WERE PLAYING AT HOME, SEWELL HAD A PARTICULARLY BAD TIME, FAILING TWICE WITH MEN ON BASES. THE NEXT TIME UP A FOG-HORN VOICE GREETED HIM AS ABOVE.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

This must be the inquisitive season. For several weeks questions from readers have been piling up. Accordingly, this bureau takes the day off to give a few answers, right or wrong. Now go on with the story:

1. Why did McGraw quit? Because his players got tired of people pecking through keyholes at them to make sure that they ate all their vegetables.

2. Can the Reds win a National League pennant this year. Not with that pitching staff.

3. Have the Braves been playing over their heads? Yes, the Braves have been playing very far over their heads.

4. How about those Dodgers? If the Cubs slip, the Dodgers will win the pennant.

5. Is this rookie Vaughn, of the Pirates, a good ball player? Mr. Vaughn, the shortstop of the Pirates, is very green insofar as fielding a batted ball is concerned. But he is a natural hitter. Offhand, after seeing him in two games, this bureau would say that he is a good ball player.

6. Will Sharkey beat Schmeling? No, Sharkey will not beat Schmeling. Sharkey should beat Schmeling, and that is the best reason in the world why he won't.

7. Would Schaaf beat Sharkey? You know very well that Schaaf would beat Sharkey.

8. How much will the Schmeling-Sharkey fight draw? The fight will draw about $375,000, and that is $350,000 too much.

9. Who will win the National Open championship? Provided your Uncle Abner decides not to play, the open will be won by a man named Mac Smith. That is, providing Joe Doakes doesn't play, either.

10. Is Burgeo King the best 3-year-old? Burgeo King is no better than Economy.

11. Will Danny MacFayden win the pennant for the Yankees? No, he will not win the pennant for the Yankees but he will come very close. The reason he won't is because the Athletics will win the pennant in that league.

12. What is the relationship between the Cardinals and the Reds? I wish I knew, and so does Judge Landis.

13. Is Bill Terry a good manager? Bill Terry is no better manager than Lew Fonseca of the White Sox. But Lew Fonseca is a rattling good manager, at that.

14. If you had a ball club, and wanted to win a series from a major league team, which team would you prefer to play, and which team would you prefer not to play?

15. Who is the wrestling champion of the world? Well, now, I just wish you hadn't asked me that, folks.

16. Is Ben Eastman all that he's cracked up to be? You can get odds from most of the track coaches in this country.

17. How much will the Schmeling-Sharkey fight draw? The fight will draw about $375,000, and that is $350,000 too much.

18. How much will the Schmeling-Sharkey fight draw? The fight will draw about $375,000, and that is $350,000 too much.

19. How much will the Schmeling-Sharkey fight draw? The fight will draw about $375,000, and that is $350,000 too much.

20. How much will the Schmeling-Sharkey fight draw? The fight will draw about $375,000, and that is $350,000 too much.

HARMON HANDED LASALLE TEAM ITS FIRST DEFEAT

'Checkers' Block Held Visiting Team To Two Bingles

(Telegraph Special Service) Harmon, June 14—The LaSalle Polish National Alliance baseball team suffered its first defeat of the season here Sunday afternoon when "Checkers" Block pitched shut-out ball for Harmon, allowing but two hits and holding the visitors scoreless. Block forced 16 of the opponents to fan the air by the strike-out route and assisted in the victory with a home run. Rommel, for LaSalle, registered 13 strikeouts. McAndrews, Innes and Faley were credited with two baggers during the afternoon. The score:

Davis Cup Players Sailed For Europe

New York, June 14—(AP)—John Van Ryn, Frank Shields and Wilmer Allison sail for Europe tonight with one eye on the British championships at Wimbledon, and the other on the inter-zone Davis Cup finals at Auteuil.

They will arrive at Wimbledon next Monday, the day the British championships start, and will begin play without any chance for preliminary practice. Their Davis Cup teammate, Ellsworth Vines, however, has been in England more than a week and will have had plenty of time to accustom himself to playing conditions abroad.

After the British championships, the Davis Cup team will assemble for practice at Paris preparatory to the interzone finals July 22, 23 and 24.

Five Years Ago Today—An amateur, Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston, and a professional Harry Hampton, shot identical scores of 37-36-73, to lead the qualifiers in the National Open golf tournament at Oakmont. Bobby Jones counted a 76.

Left Hander Wakes Sharkey In Camp

Orangeburg, N. Y., June 14—(AP)—It takes Joe Sekyra, Dayton, O., trial horse, to wake up Jack Sharkey these days as the Boston heavyweight prepares for his 15-round title match with Max Schmeling next Tuesday night.

Sharkey loaded through a two-round session with Lou Flowers and a one-round set-to with Charley Anderson in his workout indoors yesterday and threatened to do the same thing with Sekyra.

But the Ohioan, gifted with a good left hand, jabbed the challenger with it a half dozen times and Sharkey woke up with a start. He tore in quickly and boxed with his usual speed and skill throughout the rest of the two-round bout and was going along at a fast clip at the finish.

American Derby Is Big Race Of Week

Chicago, June 14—(AP)—Stepenficht, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's candidate for the $50,000 American Derby at Washington Park Saturday, was due to arrive at the track today.

Stepenficht, which will be saddled by "Big Jim" Healy, was shipped from New York yesterday.

W. M. Jefford's Boatwain, victor in the Withers, will arrive tomorrow to fulfill his engagement in the peak event of the Washington Park meeting.

Mother Of Head Of Free State Is Dead

Rochester, N. Y., June 13—(AP) In the modest home where she had lived quietly for the past thirty-seven years, Mrs. Catherine A. Wheelwright, the mother of Eamon deValera, President of the Irish Free State, died yesterday.

De Valera was her only son by her marriage to Vivian de Valera, a Spanish sculptor and musician whom she met in New York shortly after her immigration from County Limerick, Ireland. After his death and her subsequent marriage in 1887 to Charles Wheelwright, Mrs. Wheelwright sent Eamon to relatives in Ireland. He last visited his mother in December.

Mrs. Wheelwright, who was 74, came to this country in 1876 and trained as a nurse in a New York City Hospital.

Don't delay—avail yourself of one of the Dixon Telegraph's Accident Insurance Policies. The premium for 1 year is $1.25. In case of death your family will receive $1,000. Others have. Again we say do not delay—delays are dangerous.

STAR SOUTHPAWS STAGING A REAL RACE FOR HONORS

Gomez And Grove In Rivalry: Ruth And Foxx Go Strong

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Deprived for the time being of anything resembling a close pennant race, American League partisans are deriving most of their mid-season excitement from the hot duel between Vernon Gomez and Robert Moses Grove for pitching honors.

The two star southpaws, backed by clubs that provide them with plenty of runs, are setting a pace that promises soon to distance all rivals. And Grove, striving to retain his laurels in the junior circuit, has found a worthy opponent in the man who is pitching only his second full year in the majors.

Defeating Cleveland yesterday, 8 to 7, Gomez stretched his record to twelve victories against one defeat and scored his ninth straight victory for the Yankees. Grove, beating Detroit, 8 to 1, on four scattered hits, observed his eleventh straight triumph and set his mark at twelve wins and three losses.

Gomez has not tasted defeat since May 2, when Washington knocked him from the hill in five innings. The Senators also handed Grove his last reverse when they beat the Athletic ace, 2 to 1, on April 30.

Gomez Had Trouble
Grove breezed in with No. 12, holding Detroit helpless, but Gomez had a terrible time subduing the Indians. The slugger hit for six hits and five runs in the last three frames and would have beat him in the ninth but for sensational fielding by Chapman, Larry and Lazzari. As it was, they had the tying run on third when the final out was made.

The home run race between Babe Ruth of the Yanks and Jimmy Foxx of the A's remained at a standstill as each belted one out of the park. Foxx hit No. 23 off Tom Bridges of Detroit. The Babe nicked Jack Russell for No. 21.

In the day's only other contest the Chicago White Sox jumped on Ed Durham and Wiley Moore for five runs in the seventh inning to beat the forlorn Boston Red Sox, 7 to 6. Selph and Forthright each knocked in two runs for the winners.

The entire National League program was rained out.

Urges Government Fund For Industry

Washington, June 13—(AP)—Legislation to permit the Reconstruction Corporation to lend to private industry was recommended to the Senate Banking Committee today by Clarence Woolley, chairman of the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation.

The committee has approved the Democratic $2,000,000,000 unemployment relief bill but voted against use of the money for loans to private competitive industry.

Woolley told the committee it would not only be wise but eminently desirable that the reconstruction funds be made available to private enterprise.

in spite of their frail, delicate texture, many butterflies actually survive severe winters by hibernating under pieces of loose tree bark, or in some other protected crevice. The Monarch butterfly solves the cold weather problem by going south. The species that pass the winter as chrysalids have a sliken loop around the body which holds them securely moored, much in the manner that a telephone lineman is held to the pole by his safety belt.

Select Judges In Bicentennial Essay Contest

The five judges for the National Bicentennial Essay Contest, promoted by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, have been selected. It was announced today by Congressman Sol Bloom, Associate Director of the Commission.

Dr. William J. Cooper, Commissioner, United States Office of Education, Chairman; Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas, the only woman member of the United States Senate; Congresswoman Florence P. Kahn of California, dean of the women members of Congress; Joy Elmer Morgan, Editor, the Journal of the National Education Association, and Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, Historian of the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, are the judges.

Dr. Cooper has cooperated with the United States Bicentennial Commission in every educational project it has undertaken in the past two years. The success of the Celebration in the schools of America was made possible, in great measure, by Dr. Cooper's splendid Still, when we consider how things are run'n' along, hoppin' off is only a trifle more hazardous than steppin' out. 'There may be a few dries, but I've never met any socially,' says Miss Fawn Lippincott.

Senator Caraway and Congresswoman Kahn have shown the greatest interest in the Bicentennial Celebration and have both cooperated with the Federal Commission in carrying out its projects in their respective States. Both are splendidly equipped, by their interest in the Celebration and by their knowledge of George Washington and our early American History, to act as judges in this contest.

Mr. Morgan, as editor of the Journal of the National Education Association, has given to the Bicentennial Commission his wholehearted support and has been particularly interested in the series of educational contests which the Commission has sponsored.

Dr. Hart, Professor of Harvard, is representing the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission on the award committee.

The Bicentennial Essay Contest was open to high school pupils only. More than a million boys and girls, representing 34 States and Territory of Hawaii, entered the contest and submitted essays on the phase of George Washington's life. In California alone more than 650,000 students competed.

State Contest Committees, co-operating with the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission in their own expense, selected the winning essay in each State. The State winning essay, in turn, was forwarded to the Bicentennial Commission headquarters in Washington and it from these State winners that the Commission's judges will select the national winner.

Each State winner has already received a silver Bicentennial medal from the United States Bicentennial Commission. The National winner will be awarded the official gold medal of the Commission and the present will take place in Washington on June 24.

No names or address will appear on the competing essay papers. Each paper will be numbered and will go to the judges in that form. The Bicentennial Essay Contest has aroused interest in educational circles all over America. The decision of the judges is anxiously awaited by the high school youth of the land.

MAYOR 83 IS UNOPPOSED. Danville, Va.—Harry Wooding, America's oldest mayor in point of executive service, is expected to have a clear track again in the Danville mayoralty election on June 15. No candidate thus far has come out against him. Mayor Wooding is 83 and has served as mayor for 39 consecutive years.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CHERRY DIXON, 18 and pretty, falls in love with DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper editor, and when her wealthy, aristocratic parents have forbidden her to see him, Cherry leaves Dan's telephone number and goes to his home to meet him. Her father discovers this and threatens to send her to California. Cherry defies him and he orders her to leave.

She goes to Dan, tells him what has happened and asks him to marry her. The ceremony is performed that night by a justice of peace.

Cherry looks for an apartment but is discouraged to find them so expensive. Dan works late one night on a tip that TONY TORRELL, gangland chief, is coming to Wellington. Cherry unconsciously gives this news tip to a reporter on the rival newspaper. The other paper gets the story and Dan's boss threatens, "One more slip and you're fired."

DIXIE SHANNON, movie critic, helps Cherry find an inexpensive apartment. Dan and Cherry move from the hotel. Cherry, loaded with groceries on her first marriage, expects to meet MAX ARKSON, handsome friend of Dan's.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

CHERRY let Pearson relieve her of the heavy packages. She stepped into the roadster, settling herself with a sigh. "This is awfully kind of you," she said.

Her shoulders ached painfully and she was beginning to realize how tired she was.

"Not at all! Not at all. What in the world have you been doing? Buying out a grocery store?"

She told him about the apartment. "We're going to have our first dinner there tonight. It will be the first meal I've ever cooked. I'm only beginning to learn about housework."

Pearson said he was sure the dinner would be a success. Suddenly with a rush of confidence Cherry found herself telling him all about her trials of the morning. Max Pearson wasn't hard to talk to or frightening though he had read all those books and knew so much. He seemed really interested in the things she was saying.

"That's where we're living," she pointed out the building a few doors ahead.

"There on the right. You must come to see us soon. If I weren't such an amateur at cooking I'd ask you to dinner."

"That's a promise I'm going to hold you to. I'd like very much to come."

Pearson's dark eyes flashed in a smile. Cherry thought he seemed utterly sincere and was touched. She was grateful a moment later when he insisted on carrying the packages up the stairs for her.

The second floor hallway was dark. Cherry found the latch, turned her key in it and the door opened.

"The place is a sight," she apologized. "I haven't had time to half finish and things are thrown every way."

Pearson stowed the sacks of groceries on a chair. He stood in the middle of the room, hands in his pockets, and looked about. "It's homelike," he said. "I believe you've actually begun to make this room look like yourself. Yes, it's very attractive."

He swung about, facing the girl. "You have personality," Pearson said. "Did you know that? Of course you're beautiful but it's personality that makes you different from everyone else. That's why I like you. Few people have it, you know. They're like so many dry sticks or stones. You're real—yourself. And you're lovely and exciting and—well, I hope we're going to be friends."

Cherry said, "Why, of course. Dan thinks so much of you. He'll want you to come to see us often." "And you and I will be friends?" The girl's cheeks were tinged with pink. "I hope so," she said.

ALMOST immediately, rather abruptly Pearson departed. Cherry was a little puzzled by his manner. He really did seem rather unusual. But he had been friendly and she never could have managed all those packages alone.

There was no time to think more about Max Pearson. Cherry put away her coat and hat and set to work preparing dinner. She got out the cook book and hunted for instructions for cooking beefsteak. When she had found the place she dropped the book open, then decided it was a little early to put the steak on the fire. She unwrapped the other packages. They seemed to fill every available bit of space in the kitchen.

She had bought fresh peas because the grocer had suggested them. They were in a huge sack—two pounds. Cherry dumped the peas on a newspaper because there was no pan large enough to hold them. Armed with a paring knife she sat down to remove the pods. She did this laboriously, cutting off the ends of each pod and removing the peas one by one.

The sunlight had disappeared by the time she had finished and long shadows darkened the room. Cherry straightened her shoulders. Oh, how they ached! Her feet were smarting. All day she had been wearing the only sort of shoes she owned—tiny, thin soled kid pumps with Louis XV heels. They were not the sort of shoes to wear tramping up and down stairs and working about a kitchen.

She turned back to the cook book to find out how to prepare the potatoes. There were a dozen recipes—potatoes au gratin, potatoes au gratin, potatoes au gratin. Cherry read them all and decided the easiest way would be to bake them. She tried to light the oven and wasted half a dozen matches before she succeeded. The potatoes looked rather grimy. Cherry scrubbed them, thrust them into the oven and shut the door.

It was almost 5 o'clock and Dan would be there any time now. The dinner was far from ready. Cherry flushed and nervous, bustled about. She put the peas on to cook in a pan almost filled with water, dumping in a cup of salt. The steak went on next. She did not know that the skillet should be smoking hot and greased with fat before the meat went in.

In a flurry of anxiety she left the kitchen and began to set the table. There was no table cloth. The dishes had to go on the bare table top and this was a disappointment to Cherry who had visioned a table with flawless linen, shimmering crystal and silver—the sort of dinner table to which she had all day sat down in her own home. There should have been candles glowing softly and a bowl of flowers.

The odor of burning beef steak suddenly recalled her to the kitchen. Oh, dear, something was wrong!

SHE caught the iron skillet handle to take it from the flame, then cried out in agony. Her whole hand was scorched. The pain was terrific and tears filled her eyes so that she could scarcely see. Something must be done about the meat! It was burning and the smoke and fumes became worse every moment. Cherry did the only thing she could think of. Groping, half-blinded, she drew a cup of water from the tap and poured it into the skillet. There was an enormous sputtering sound and clouds of steam.

The girl turned on the water tap and held her injured hand under it. How good the cold water felt! The minute she took her hand away the stinging began again.

An unfamiliar sizzling sound because her to turn back to the stove. The water covering the peas had boiled up and was dripping over one side of the pan.

Cherry choked back an exclamation and pushed the pan from the blaze. That would not do, though. The peas would never cook unless they were over the fire. Perhaps they were done. She fished out one and tasted it. Horrible!

Cautiously Cherry dipped off some of the liquid, placed the dish over the blaze and turned it lower. Her burned hand was still painful but she could not spend more time holding it under the water.

Who would have imagined that cooking could be so difficult! Everything was wrong and everything was to be done at once. She had not even started with the celery. There were the strawberries to be washed and hulled. The rolls—horror, what had she done with them?

Mourning involuntarily because her hand was so painful, Cherry began searching for the rolls. It was no use. She must have forgotten to buy them.

Forgetful of steam and smoke and the mingled odors of burned beefsteak and vegetables, Cherry sank into a chair. The rolls—the one thing they might have eaten without cooking—were not there.

DAN was comforting when he arrived and viewed the ruined supper. He made Cherry sit in a big chair with her hand wrapped in an oiled bandage. Then he made a trip to the neighborhood delicatessen and returned with rolls and some packages of breakfast food. Dan was persistently cheerful and finally won Cherry from her dark mood.

"Of course you can't learn it all in one night," he told her. "Nobody could. You're going to be one of the best cooks in Wellington one of these days. And right now you're the prettiest!"

"But I'm no cook at all. I spoiled everything I bought and it cost such a lot! Oh, Dan, I'm not the right wife for you at all. I don't know how to do anything—"

He answered convincingly and shortly. They finally ate a meal consisting of bowls of breakfast food heaped with strawberries and covered with cream, celery, cups of steaming strong coffee and cheese.

Afterward they washed the dishes and put them away. It was too late and they were too tired to plan anything else for the evening.

Cherry did not even remember to tell Dan about her meeting with Max Pearson.

The week that followed was the busiest, the most exhausting and the most disappointing Cherry Phillips had ever known. She had much to learn and to unlearn. She found that trying to prepare the sort of meals she would have ordered in a hotel dining room was a mistake. Simple food and simple recipes were best with the limited facilities of the tiny kitchen.

There were mornings when the milk was sour for breakfast because Cherry had forgotten to order ice. There were evenings when the chops were like rubber, the potatoes underdone and the dessert hopeless.

A bright spot in the week was the visit Sarah O'Fallon paid the apartment. For one thing, Sarah insisted on taking off her coat and stirring up a batch of muffins. She showed Cherry exactly how to do it. Sarah had practical suggestions galore and all of them proved helpful.

Cherry's housekeeping improved. They had been in the apartment 10 days when Dan suggested casually, "Mind if I ask Max to come out tomorrow evening?"

Cherry said, "Of course not. Ask him for dinner."

It was Max who called next day to say the invitation had been eagerly accepted. It was a rainy, dismal morning. Cherry, looking out the window, was pleased at the prospect of spending the evening at home. She was pleased at the thought of seeing Pearson again.

She did not dream that so long as she lived she was never to forget that night.

Chicago, June 14.—(AP)—The self removal of Charles G. Dawes from the Vice Presidential picture made administration supporters more confident than ever today it would be "Hoover and Curtis" again in 1932.

Only a few hours before the convention opened this morning, Dawes announced at Washington that he was not a candidate for the Vice Presidency. This came just as it seemed there was a definite movement by the opposition to Charles Curtis to center on the Chicago diplomat, financier and politician.

SEN. DICKINSON GIVES "KEYNOTE" TO REPUBLICANS

Calls The Re-election Of Hoover Essential To Recovery

Chicago, June 14.—(AP)—In a keynote speech entirely silent on the thorny prohibition issue, Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa called today for the reelection of Herbert Hoover as a "dependable means" toward the restoration of "normal conditions."

His address at the opening of the Republican national convention called moves by the President to meet the depression "brilliant." The Democrats were severely rapped, the Farm Board was defended and the Republican party was called the "undeviating" friend of the farmer.

The Smoot-Hawley tariff was described as a bulwark against cheap foreign products and the national defense and foreign policy of the administration were praised.

The forceful, white-haired Iowa Republican told the delegates assembled in the huge, flag-decorated Stadium that there could be no "greater patriotism" than the employment of every effort for the restoration of normalcy. He said Mr. Hoover was at "grips" with the depression before the country as a whole realized what it faced.

Prevented Panic
"His first act prevented a financial panic," he said, adding that the Chief Executive invoked Federal Reserve Board powers to cushion the effects of the stock market debacle.

Conferences with industrial and labor leaders, Senator Dickinson said, prevented the bloody disturbances which have attended other economic crises.

Then were reviewed steps taken "against depression on a hundred fronts." Among them were listed formation of the National Credit Association; erection of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and a "determination that a balanced budget was the first essential to economic recovery."

Mention of the tax bill was a prelude to castigation of the Democrats.

Castigates Democrats
"For two long years they hampered the President at every turn," the Iowa Senator said. "Through a highly subsidized press bureau, Democratic leaders sought to distort his every word; to belittle his every effort at human and economic relief; to impugn his every motive; to frustrate his every move. Their orders were to 'Smear Hoover.'"

Democrats in the House, Dickinson said, followed Mr. Hoover for a time last fall because they had no program of their own but finally they broke away. The Republican keynoter said the result was the wrecking of the economy bill and a flouting of the party's own leaders.

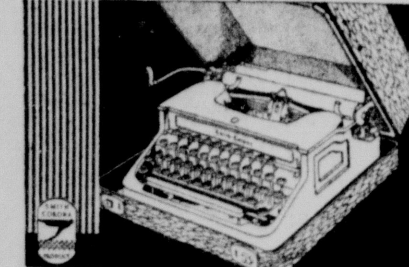

The relief proposal by Speaker Garner of the House which already had been lambasted by the Chief Executive as a "pork barrel" measure was assailed by Dickinson. He charged also that measures sponsored by the Democrats threatened to debase the dollar. It raised, he said, the "ghost of 1896."

Defends Farm Board
The organizing of farmers into cooperatives for the marketing of their products was termed the outstanding accomplishment of the Farm Board "which has been the butt of much criticism, the greater part of which is unjust."

The Board was also given credit for bolstering the price of wheat and cotton through stabilization efforts. The profit to the farmer as a result was estimated at between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000.

Credit for substantial betterment through the Smoot-Hawley tariff by Dickinson was accompanied by the contention that the Democrats were badly divided on the issue.

lars to furnish necessary credit no longer able to contain their hopes of victory within the sphere of the good of the nation. On the all essential proposition of balancing the budget, they elected to follow their own course. And with what result?

"The Democrats in the House of Representatives flouted their own leadership; their tax bill was completely rewritten by the revolting Democratic majority; their economy measure was torn to shreds.

Dollar Value Threatened

"Democratic sponsors call for undue inflation of the national currency. The safety of the country requires the maintenance of the gold standard. The value of the American dollar must be maintained throughout the world.

"Nor was this moribund issue the sum total of the products of the master minds of Democracy. They proposed billions in bond issues for unnecessary and unproductive public works, presumably on the theory that when our budgets is unbalanced—when your outgo exceeds your income—you can squander yourself into prosperity.

"In their efforts thus to debase the dollar by fiat money and other equally unsound financial schemes, the Democrats stalked forth with the ghost of 1896."

Board Stemmed Panic

"The Farm Board has been the butt of much criticism, the greater part of which is unjust. We have heard much abuse of the Board's operations in stabilization of cotton and wheat by their financing of cooperatives to purchase these commodities, but we have heard very little of the fact that by their entry into the market in February during the crop year of 1930 and again in November of the next crop year, they stemmed the panic which had broken in agricultural prices."

"The Farm Board held prices in each of these two crops above world levels to such a degree that the very moderate estimate of the amount realized by the American farmer and above what they would have realized otherwise is between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000."

Saved Millions

"It matters little if the government loses $150,000,000 for the savings it made to homes of farmers throughout this hole land. It was throwing a regiment into the front of the battle to lose, but it saved millions."

"Directly and indirectly, the federal government has, during the last three years, poured into the agricultural industry nearly $1,000,000,000. As I said before, grievous as his suffering may be, no farmer can deny the undeviating friendship of the Republican party."

"Since the beginning of the economic crisis, the Democratic party has shown an utter lack of cohesion on every important issue, and on none has it been more divided than on the tariff. Its leaders have run the scale from free trade to the highest possible protection."

Just One Bulwark

"With falling prices and depreciated currencies overseas, there stands just one bulwark for the salvation of our people. Without the rates of the Hawley-Smoot act of 1930, we would long since have been inundated by a flood of cheaply produced foreign products."

"Gentlemen of the opposition cried to high heaven against some of the rates that were being written into that bill. But while they thus wailed, they were not only voluntary, but eager partners in the writing of duties for their fiscal and state industries which in many cases even surpassed what staunch protectionists and Republicans believed were necessary."

"In the Senate alone 1,010 votes were cast by Democratic Senators either for increases in rates or against decreases in rates, and the Democrats furnished the margin of votes that were necessary for final enactment of the measure."

"Even more recently—in congressional consideration of budget balancing tax bill—we have had further illustrations of the avidity with which the Democrats pursue high tariff rates. They generously supported duties on copper, coal, oil and lumber. And all this after two years of the most bitter and venomous denunciation of the Hawley-Smoot Act."

"Today partisanship is sublimated before patriotism."

"And yet to my mind there is no greater patriotism than the employment of every effort toward the restoration of normal conditions. And there can be no more dependable means to this end than the re-election of Herbert Hoover as President of the United States of America."

GOOD ADVERTISING IS NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

A whole lot of merchants spend too much time thinking it can't be done. But facts show that merchants who advertise in newspapers persistently and truthfully get the business.

Persistent advertisers not only get the business, but build prestige for their business; while non-advertisers let time put them out of the minds of the people and out of business.

Business concerns should turn the spotlight of advertising on their business so the people may see where and what to buy.

—Beautiful pink paper for the pantry shelves and bureau drawers in rolls, ten cents to fifty cents.—B. F. Shaw Printing Co.

People buy from merchants who invite their business by advertising in the local newspapers. Business concerns who do not advertise do not exist in the mind of the public.

Merchants who are not getting their share of business should take an inventory of themselves and their business. It may be their fault because people buy elsewhere.

Modern merchants are constantly getting new lines and brands—something different—something that will be in great demand as soon as the people know that they have them in stock. Good advertising always entices customers to a store.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Washington observers, accustomed as they have become in the present Congress to queer twists, coalitions and flip-flops, figuratively, are rubbing their eyes in amazement at the latest one—

Fiorello LaGuardia in active support of admittedly one of the most severe gag rules ever jammed through the House.

The stocky, hard-hitting congressman from New York literally has screamed in the past every time an effort has been made in the House to throttle debate. He was one of the pioneers in the movement for liberalization of the House rules.

But when the huge Garner relief program first came before the House he executed one of the nearest, and for him, one of the most daring of parliamentary flip-flops.

LaGUARDIA ADMITS IT—

He admitted it. He was frank enough to shout to those inclined to jeer at him that he had been forced to forget his parliamentary scruples to obtain relief for those so sorely in need.

"Some of you preach that we should forget party," he cried at the Republican leadership. "That's exactly what I am doing in urging that this relief bill be enacted speedily."

It was perhaps unfortunate that LaGuardia, in supporting the special rule to place the Garner bill before the House, had to support one such as that one. It was perhaps as drastic, as gagging as any ever accepted by the House—whether under republican or democratic leadership.

Democrats admitted its severity. Republicans condemned it as a "little that hog-tied, strapped, bound and rendered helpless the membership of the House of Representatives."

DRASTIC RULE—

The bill was considered by the House in this fashion:

Debate was limited to three hours, at the conclusion of which the bill was considered as read. No amendments could be offered except at the direction of the Ways and Means Committee (controlled by the Democrats) and there could be no amendments offered to the amendments.

It truly must have been a tough one for LaGuardia to swallow.

Out of 1000 male morons born, there will be 705 survivors at the end of 10 years, according to Dr. Neil A. Dayton, of Massachusetts.
